

Accelerating the future of green energy — Now seeking a visionary CEO

We are seeking a dynamic and forward-thinking CEO to lead Wattly Group's continued expansion. In this pivotal role, you will guide the company to new heights by overseeing strategy, operations, and partnerships that drive sustainable energy infrastructure across diverse markets.

Who we are

Wattly Group is an international investment firm dedicated to driving the transition to renewable energy through scalable, innovative financial models. By combining deep financial expertise with advanced green technologies, we enable rapid, reliable financing and development of multiple projects simultaneously — freeing partners from traditional bottlenecks and single-source approvals.

Unlike traditional EPC contractors or project developers reliant on a single lender, Wattly takes a broader, more flexible approach to financing.

By tapping into a wide network of capital sources, we can evaluate multiple projects in parallel, freeing our partners from cumbersome, single-approval bottlenecks.

This parallel financing capacity accelerates development timelines, reduces risk exposure, and ultimately drives more renewable projects to market.

At the same time, our rigorous quality standards ensure only well-documented, high-potential ventures move forward—building trust among developers, investors, and communities alike.

By tailoring investment portfolios to different risk profiles, we help investors diversify while maximizing returns. Together, these strategies solidify Wattly's role as a stable, long-term force in the expanding green energy sector.

Driven by our commitment

Wattly is driven by a deep commitment to real climate impact. We structure all financial products as "Deep Green," fully aligned with internationally recognized sustainability frameworks. Every investment contributes meaningfully to environmental goals — reducing carbon emissions and strengthening local energy infrastructure.

By embedding these high standards into our strategies, we enhance long-term profitability while fostering public trust in the transition to cleaner, more responsible energy.

Ready to lead the future?

Are you driven to transform the energy sector while delivering genuine, long-term value? Wattly Group is seeking a CEO to expand our sustainable finance solutions and accelerate the transition to clean energy. If this speaks to your ambitions, we'd love to hear from you.

The CEO Role

As Wattly Group moves into its next phase of growth, innovation, and impact, we need a forward-thinking leader capable of taking our sustainable finance and development model to new heights. Key responsibilities include:

Strategize and execute: Shape the company's long-term direction, maximizing both investor value and climate benefits.

Leverage parallel financing: Champion Wattly's capacity to fund multiple renewable energy projects simultaneously, creating a powerful, scalable development pipeline.

Expand partnerships: Forge strong relationships with developers, EPCs, and investors, ensuring high-quality deal flow and robust project portfolios.

Uphold deep green standards: Integrate EU Taxonomy and other sustainability frameworks into every aspect of project evaluation, risk management, and execution.

Foster operational excellence: Lead a cross-functional team, streamline processes, and maintain Wattly's reputation as a stable, trustworthy market player.

Ideal Profile

We're searching for an accomplished professional with a solid background in finance, green technology, or infrastructure, able to unite ambitious growth with prudent risk management. Building strong alliances across developers, investors, and other partners calls for exceptional collaboration skills.

Equally vital is a genuine passion for sustainability, ensuring each initiative generates both financial returns and real climate impact. In a rapidly evolving market, adaptability and forward-thinking are key to driving meaningful progress in renewable energy finance.

Reach out to us if you bring:

Proven Leadership in finance, green technology, or infrastructure.

Strategic Vision that balances ambitious growth with sound risk management.

A Collaborative Mindset that fosters trust among diverse stakeholders—from developers to investors

Passion for Sustainability that drives real climate impact alongside profitability.

Adaptability to innovate in a rapidly evolving market and maintain a competitive edge.

Why Wattly Group?

At Wattly, we do more than just finance renewable projects — we pave the way for scalable, global impact by leveraging a parallel funding model, high-impact innovations, and a broad international network.

- Parallel Financing Model: Offer quicker, more reliable project realization and risk-spread portfolios to investors.
- High-Impact Projects: Contribute to global renewable deployment through scalable, deep green solutions.
- Innovation & Growth: Influence the evolution of the green finance industry, shaping advanced financing structures.
- Global Reach: Work with international partners on a range of projects—from smaller-scale local operations to large, complex ventures.
